Jans elected NCEES president-elect

Delegates elected Dale Jans, P.E., NCEES president-elect at the organization's 89th Annual Meeting, held August 18–21 in Denver. He will serve as president-elect for the 2010–11 term and as president the following year.

A resident of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Jans has been a member of the South Dakota Board of Technical Professions since 1994. He is a past board chair as well as a former NCEES Central Zone vice president.

Jans has been a licensed professional engineer in South Dakota since 1979. He is president and majority owner of Jans Corporation, a design/build construction company based in South Dakota. His professional memberships include the American Society of Civil Engineers and the National Society of Professional Engineers. Jans is a national life director of the Associated General Contractors of America. He also serves on the South Dakota State University Department of Civil Engineering Advisory Board and the SDSU Foundation Council of Trustees.

ABOUT NCEES

NCEES is a national nonprofit organization composed of engineering and surveying licensing boards representing all U.S. states, the District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. An accredited standards developer with the American National Standards Institute, NCEES develops, scores, and administers the examinations used for engineering and surveying licensure throughout the United States. NCEES also provides services facilitating professional mobility for licensed engineers and surveyors. Its headquarters is located in Clemson, S.C.
