NCEES Foundation now accepting donations

The NCEES Foundation is pleased to announce it is now accepting individual donations to support programs that further the NCEES mission to advance licensure. These donations allow individuals and other organizations to have a direct impact on protecting the health, safety, and welfare of future generations by ensuring a sustainable workforce of licensed engineers and surveyors.

NCEES Foundation Board Chair Dale Jans, P.E., stated, “Individual donations to the NCEES Foundation are a great way for individuals to support their passion for licensure and to have a lasting impact on the professions. Many organizations accept donations and do meaningful work to support STEM activities and initiatives. However, those who choose to give to the Foundation will specifically be supporting engineering and surveying initiatives with a direct impact on advancing licensure.”

Donors can choose from four annual giving levels and will be recognized in NCEES publications and at its annual meeting.

- Bronze up to $250
- Silver $251–$500
- Gold $501–$1,000
- Platinum over $1,000
