Rickborn elected NCEES treasurer

NCEES delegates elected Timothy Rickborn, P.E., treasurer for the 2017–19 term at the organization's 96th annual meeting, held August 23–26 in Miami Beach, Florida.

A resident of Mount Pleasant, South Carolina, Rickborn has been a member of the South Carolina Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Surveyors since 2012 and is a past board chair. He was a member of the NCEES Committee on Finances from 2012 to 2016, and he has been a volunteer with the organization's Structural Engineering Exam Development Committee since 2002.

Rickborn has been a licensed professional engineer in South Carolina since 1998. He is owner and senior structural engineer of Rickborn and Associates, LLC. He is a graduate of Clemson University, receiving a bachelor of science degree and master of science degree in civil engineering.

Rickborn is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and a founding member of the Structural Engineers Association of South Carolina.

ABOUT NCEES

The National Council of Examiners for Engineering and Surveying is a nonprofit organization made up of engineering and surveying licensing boards from all U.S. states, the District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico, Northern Mariana Islands, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. Since its founding in 1920, NCEES has been committed to advancing licensure for engineers and surveyors in order to safeguard the health, safety, and welfare of the U.S. public.

NCEES helps its member licensing boards carry out their duties to regulate the professions of engineering and surveying. It develops best-practice models for state licensure laws and regulations and promotes uniformity among the states. It develops and administers the exams used for engineering and surveying licensure throughout the country. It also provides services to help licensed engineers and surveyors practice their professions in other U.S. states and territories. For more information, please visit ncees.org.
